Objectives: Each class provides information about the art of trapping furbearer animals; trap selection, preparation and maintenance; furbearer biology; scouting for furbearer signs; and fur handling. Rules and regulations, safety, sportsmanship and ethics as well as making successful trap sets for land and water are also covered. All courses have demonstrations and hands-on experience to enhance the learning process.

Foothold Traps

These are two types of foothold traps. At the left is a longspring trap, at the right is a coilspring trap.
